WOMEN BARRED OUT.

None but Members of the Press Permitted In Court.

FEMALES ARE IRATE

In Vain Scores of Them Sought to Enter the Courtroom, Justice Fitzgerald's Instructions Being Obeyed.

New York, Feb. 11.—The opening of the fourth week of the Thaw trial Monday brought a new order of things in the courtroom and all women other than half a dozen active newspaper writers, who have followed the case since the beginning, were barred by order of Justice Fitzgerald. During the two days last week, when Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was on the witness stand, women crowded the courtroom, having in some manner solved the problem of getting past the bailiff at the door. Monday the women stormed the portals again, but in vain. In the belief that young Mrs. Thaw would again be the central figure in the famous trial women were anxious to hear the final details of the life narrative of the prisoner's wife. Their indignation knew no bounds when court officers repulsed them with the statement that the court's order excluded every one except such as working newspaper reporters. Many of these, who occupied front seats during last week, were led to believe the order could not possibly include them, and they remained about the corridors for a long time in the hope there might be some relaxation of the rule. They are doomed to disappointment, however, and at last reluctantly left the building.

That the defense would proceed with the struggle to have Harry Thaw's will accepted in evidence as testimony to his unsoundness of mind was indicated by Mr. Delmas, who asked that Judge Lyon be called as the first witness of the day. Mr. Lyon was sworn and stated that he lived at Pittsburgh all his life and had been engaged in the banking business for more than a quarter of a century. He is now connected with the Union National bank.

"You are acquainted with the defendant, Harry K. Thaw?" asked Mr. Delmas.

Here Mr. Jerome objected. He protested against the defense proceeding with a new witness while the examination of Mrs. Evelyn Thaw remained uncompleted. Mr. Jerome said he thought the defense should offer some explanation of its purpose of interrupting the testimony of Mrs. Thaw to introduce Mr. Lyon as a witness.

Mr. Delmas asked that Mr. Lyon be allowed merely to identify an envelope and the package (the will) it contained. Then, he declared, if the district attorney objected further he would defer for the time being to offer the will in evidence.

Mr. Jerome in his argument went into a discussion of the rules of evidence, which prevented him from controverting the truth of Mrs. Thaw's testimony as to the story she told her husband. Mr. Jerome, after a short, whispered conference with Mr. Delmas, withdrew his objection and Mr. Lyon was permitted to give his testimony.

John B. Gleason of Thaw's counsel was the next witness. Mr. Gleason said the will had been in his possession since Dec. 11, 1906. Mr. Lyon had testified that he held the will till the latter part of November, 1906.

Mrs. Thaw was recalled. Mr. Jerome, on Delmas' demand, produced the note Mrs. Thaw passed to her husband in Cafe Martin on the night of the shooting. The note read: "The b— was here a minute ago, but went out again."

The court took a recess at 12:30 p. m. until 2 p. m. It was agreed that Mrs. Thaw should temporarily step aside to permit the introduction of further testimony tending to show the alleged condition of defendant's mind.

Cortelyou to Determine.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The following statement was given out at the white house: "The president has communicated with Postmaster General Cortelyou, whether it is feasible to bar from the mails papers that give full disgusting particulars of the Thaw case. He does not know whether it is feasible, but if it is he wishes it done."

KILLED BY HIS OWN PISTOL.

After Slaying Policeman and Wounding Another Mexican Loses Life.

El Paso, Feb. 11.—After killing one policeman and wounding another at Mazatlan, Mex., Antonio Benitez tried to escape by running, but stumbled and fell and was killed by the accidental discharge of his pistol.

Time Tells the Story

There is a big difference between the cost of making a first-class sewing-machine, embodying the best of materials and workmanship, and one which is made in the cheapest manner. The buyer of the cheap machine soon puts the difference of price in the constant cost for repairs, to say nothing of its annoying inefficiency.

KILLING AT MOSELEY'S FERRY.

Tom Worthington was shot and killed at Moseley's Ferry on the Brazos river Saturday evening, and R. A. Rogers went to Caldwell and surrendered. Worthington was forty years old, a widower and leaves three children. He kept the Moseley Ferry. Rogers is sixty-five years old and unmarried. He formerly kept a small grocery store on the Burleson county side of the river opposite Stone City. It is alleged that a shot was fired at Rogers, some of the charge taking effect in the left side of his coat, before Worthington was shot and killed.

READY FOR BIDDERS.

Mr. L. S. Green of Houston, architect of the new Christian church, was here yesterday, met with the building committee and submitted the completed specifications for the building which were received and approved, and the committee is now ready to advertise for bids and let the contract in due course.

Rev. J. L. Andrews, formerly pastor of the church, was here from Dallas representing the manufacturers of art glass and seats and also met with the committee.

THE WATER SITUATION.

The water works employees are busy boring the sand out of one of the old wells which has been in trouble several days, and worked until midnight last night. Manager Preston hopes to finish this well and have pump going by tonight. He flushed the mains with water yesterday afternoon from 5 to 6:30 to let patrons get a supply and will repeat this from 6:30 to 8 this morning, and from 10:30 to 12, and so on until the wells are in shape for normal service again. The lights have been out for several nights, Mr. Preston believing it better to be without lights for a time and preserve water on hand for fire protection.

METHODIST CHURCH PROGRESS.

Work is still progressing nicely on the new Methodist church and the remarkable beauty and utility of the structure becomes daily more apparent. Most of the plastering on the interior has been done, the electric lighting circuits are being installed, also the steam heating equipment. The brick work is about all completed except on the south side. The art glass windows are enroute and will be put in as soon as they arrive.

THEY HAD LIGHTS.

Fritz Braatz, who has a dynamo to supply the current for an electric fan circuit, came to the rescue last night and supplied fine lights for the masquerade at Elks Hall. Mr. Braatz has a plant that will carry 300 or more lights, but he prefers to reserve most of his power for the fans.

I knew when I put prices where they ought to be there would be some knockers, but like Carrie Nation, they will be compelled to sell their little hatchets for souvenirs. The latest is, that I use inferior stock for material. Ask any reliable Marble dealer in Texas if he can buy any better material than the following: Average Rutland, white; Average Sutherland Falls; Average Pittsford Valley; Average Creole Georgia; Average Cherokee Georgia; and Italian Marble. The first three mentioned are quarried in Vermont, the next two in Georgia, and there is no better Marble in the United States than the above. The last is quarried in Italy, near Carrara. If there is a dealer in Texas that can buy any better Marble than these, tell him Hilger wants to see him.

"The Bible a Mirror," was the subject of a special and very able sermon especially to young men by Rev. Jas. A. Challenor at the Christian church Sunday night. The discourse was logical and forceful and those who were present, whether young or old, found it helpful and inspiring.

The pastor and parents among the members of the Christian church are inspiring an enthusiasm in church work in the hearts of children of the Christian church that will bear fruit not only in the present church building enterprise, but in the church and mission work to which they have opportunity to contribute throughout their lives. The latest evidence of this spirit was manifested in a tea given by the little ones at the home of Mrs. R. M. Wilson Saturday afternoon—the sum of $2.00 for the church building fund. The tea was given by little Misses Elizabeth Wilson, Alma Ford and Lilly Ray.

A feature of interest is the quarterly report of County Treasurer Jno. M. Lawrence filed for quarter ending February 11, 1907, and approved by the court. The report shows balances on hand in the various funds approximating twenty-five thousand dollars as follows: First Class fund, $3606.92; Sinking fund, $6033.31; Public Building fund, $6631.18; Third Class fund, $5558.11; Road and Bridge fund, $1775.78; Poll Tax fund, $910.84; total, $24,516.14.

When it is remembered that the above is over and above $15,000.00 bonds owned by the county in the sinking fund and bearing 4 per cent interest; also over and above approximately $4500.00 available school fund and sixty-two thousand dollars bonds owned by the county in the permanent school fund and bearing 4 and 5 per cent interest, the sound management of county finances by Judge Board, members of the commissioners court and Treasurer Lawrence and the excellent financial condition of the county are apparent at a glance.

PURCHASES HEARNE DEMOCRAT.

Mr. O. E. Minkert, who recently went from Bryan to Hearne, and purchased in an interest in the Hearne Democrat, of which he became business manager, has more recently purchased the entire plant and business from the Hearne Publishing Co., and has also bought the Marquez Times. Mr. Minkert will continue the publication of both papers. As the Eagle has heretofore remarked, Mr. Minkert is a competent newspaper man, and we congratulate him upon his advancement in the ranks of the profession. He will give the people of Hearne and Marquez live papers which will prove a prominent factor in the development of those towns, and worthy of hearty support.

The demand for the trolley line was very forcibly illustrated by the special train for the Mary Carson Kidd recital at College on Saturday night. Three coaches of the I. and G. N. special train were crowded to the limit of standing room, and many more would doubtless have made the trip if there had been the assurances of comfort secured by a trolley line which could have made more than one trip if necessary to accommodate the crowd.

HENRY EXAMINED.

Congressman Testified Before the Investigation Committees Monday.

Austin, Feb. 11.—Hon. R. L. Henry was the first witness Monday before the Bailey investigation committees. He stated he had been a member of congress for ten years. He was partner of Stribling from March 1895, until his election in 1896. He said Henry & Stribling were connected with the Waters-Pierce penalty suits. He said he was assistant attorney general under the Hogg administration, and while he was living in Texarkana he was directed to go to Waco and investigate alleged violations of the anti-trust laws. He said he conferred with the grand jury, which decided to indict about nine Standard and Waters-Pierce officials. He resigned as assistant attorney general and moved to Waco. At that time Taylor was county attorney. Taylor agreed to bring suit against the Waters-Pierce company and turned the proceedings over to Henry & Stribling to handle the matter on a division of fees. Witness stated hard work was required to get up the evidence. "We continued in the case until we were invited out of it by County Attorney C. M. Thomas," said Henry. "That was the last day of October, 1900."

Henry said he agreed with Thomas that criminal indictments against Pierce should not be dismissed. This ended the conference. The witness said he had read over testimony of C. F. Thomas that the latter objected to the fee of $3000 for Henry & Stribling. Henry stated emphatically that he never knew of him objecting to the fee until Thomas issued a newspaper state Aug. 8, 1900, about ninety-five days after the conference. He said this Thomas statement severed their personal relations. Henry had a letter of Oct. 13, 1900, to Henry & Stribling from Cullen F. Thomas, which was read by the clerk. This letter asked Henry & Stribling to withdraw from the case and offered to compromise on the fee. Thomas believed that they could not successfully continue the case because of estranged relations.

Henry read the letter of reply to Thomas in which they declined the offer of Thomas and preferred to continue in the case under the old contract. Witness stated they proceeded to get ready to try the case and worked overtime. He said that Thomas tried to confer with him over the telephone and he (Henry) refused to talk to him. He said a friend of Thomas tried to intercede, but they refused to "stack arms." When the case came to trial in October, 1900, Thomas appeared in court and Henry & Stribling promptly withdrew, leaving the courthouse.

Henry read a newspaper letter by George Clark in which the writer said the only obstacle in the way of settlement was the criminal indictment against Pierce, which Thomas refused to withdraw.

Henry denied emphatically that he had parted in anger with Thomas at the Pacific hotel. Witness declared he knew nothing of the $1500 draft or the $1,300 voucher. He had read about them in the papers and said he wrote a statement to the newspapers to this effect. "I wish to say that I never received any money from Pierce, the Waters-Pierce Oil company or any attorney or agent," said Henry.

Witness said a letter to him from Clark, in which the writer said that in his opinion the letters supposed to be from J. D. Johnson read by Thomas in the congressional campaign, were forgeries. Clark exonerated Henry in this letter and asserted that if the letters were genuine they were stolen and Thomas knew they had been stolen.

Witness also read a letter from J. D. Johnson of Aug. 18, 1902, in which Johnson stated that he had never offered to pay Henry or Stribling any sum of money for the dismissal of the cases.

Henry was permitted to go over the Thomas testimony, which had been prepared in typewritten form. He denied that he said to Thomas: "You do not think we are dishonest, do you?" and Thomas' reply, "I don't." This conversation, he said, never took place at the Pacific hotel.

Henry said that on April 28 primaries for congress were held in Limestone county and his opponent was T. S. Henderson. He said he was on his way to Bell county April 29, 1900, when he went to see Stribling, who was sick in bed. Stribling showed a telegram from Bailey asking him (Stribling) to meet him at Hillsboro. Henry met Bailey and was told about his interest in the affair. Bailey was anxious to help his friend Francis. Bailey stated Pierce wanted to throw up his hands and obey the laws of Texas. Henry said he was unwilling to take any part in a compromise until he was in the presence of the district judge and county attorney. Henry insisted that if a compromise was reached he wanted it given to the public through the press, and he said Pierce was willing to compromise for $13,000.

Henry told of a conference with Pierce in which "Bailey was there a good deal of the time." He said that in the conference District Judge Scott spoke up and said: "Ten thousand dollars for the state and $3,000 for Henry & Stribling would be a good settlement. You know there may be a question of abatement since the old company has dissolved."

On a question from Cooke Mr. Henry said that the conference was held on April 30, 1900, by Henry, Stribling, Scott, Bailey and others. Henry was emphatic about this conference, not withstanding a statement to the contrary. He said Bailey got off a regular Pullman sleeping car and did not think it was a private car. During his testimony Henry said: "Mr. Bailey told me that Mr. Pierce would be willing to make satisfactory settlement of the suits, and I replied that such a course would be entirely satisfactory if the terms of the settlement could be agreed upon by all parties concerned."

Henry said he was surprised and depressed when Pierce came to Waco, because he had tried hard to get him through a requisition from Governor Stone of Missouri and that official had turned down the requisition.

In reply to a question of Cooke the witness stated that Bailey was the first man to mention to propose a compromise of the suits.

Giving the substance of Bailey's telegram to Stribling, the witness said it was dated at Parsons, Kan., and invited Stribling to meet him at Hillsboro and run down the road with him. Henry said he argued with Bailey that the Waters-Pierce Oil company was a constituent part of the Standard Oil company. He thought so then and he thinks so now. Witness believed that Bailey took Pierce' word and was honest in his conviction. He said the last time he saw Johnson was last October at Waco and only passed a pleasant word with him.

Witness said he got the original copy of the Standard Oil company trust agreement of 1882 and the supplement showed, them to Bailey and told of Bailey's explanation of the Waters-Pierce Oil company's position. He thought that Standard Oil company owned 51 per cent of the stock of the Waters-Pierce company at that time and thinks so yet. Did not argue the question with Bailey at that time.

"I know nothing about Stribling going to St. Louis in November," said Henry. "The first I knew of Stribling's employment by the Waters-Pierce and fee of $3,100 was the testimony given here by Mr. Stribling. He may have talked with me about the fee in a general way, however."

BRYAN INVITED.

He is Asked to Address Both Houses of the Legislature.

Austin, Feb. 11.—Hon. W. J. Bryan has been invited by a concurrent resolution to address both houses of the legislature.

The house passed a bill authorizing the attorney general to examine the bonds of domestic and foreign corporations whom he has reason to believe are operating in violation of the anti-trust laws.

The house engrossed a bill to provide for the appointment of a board of state auditors to inspect the books of the state departments and make such recommendations as they shall deem proper to put the state on a more business-like basis.

A resolution was adopted inviting the attorney general to draw up such measures as in his judgment will reach trusts operating in Texas, mentioned in his recent communication to the legislature.

Mr. Love of Williamson introduced a resolution in the house providing for sine die adjournment of the legislature on March 13. It was laid on the table subject to call.

HUGE HOLE.

Concussion So Great It Was Felt Forty Miles Away.

Woolwich, Eng., Feb. 11.—A huge hole in the ground is all that remains of the site of the chemical research department of Woolwich arsenal and cordite magazine which exploded early Monday morning with such terrific force that the concussion was felt in towns forty miles away. The whole country side was thrown into a panic, owing to the belief that a violent earthquake had occurred. There was no loss of life, but buildings for miles around were wrecked.

Within a few minutes after the explosion thousands of terror-stricken people, many of them half-clothed, thronged toward the arsenal. There were large holes in the walls of neighboring houses, and on all sides shattered doors and windows and wrecked roofs testified to the appalling force of the explosion. The arsenal and magazine were practically swept away, the big blocks of stone of which they were constructed being scattered for hundreds of yards on all sides.

The people of Braintree, forty miles away, were thrown into a panic by the shock of the explosion, while in nearer towns windows were shattered and chimneys demolished. The cause of the disaster has not been ascertained.
